PRICE, FIVE CENTS

Narberth Holds Lead as Royersford Bows 8-1 at Borough Field

Davismen Will Face Media and Gladwyne This Coming Week-End

LATTER SHOWING POWER

It was a good game until the fifth inning.

Royersford had scored a run in the fourth and was leading Narberth 1-0. Then, in the fifth, with two men on, Tanny Ralston poled a home run. To make the victory emphatic, the Davismen scored five more runs in the later innings, final score 8-1, while Al Herrmann limited the Royersford men to six hits. Al also struck out nine batters.

The Sunday battle at Narberth kept the home team a half game ahead of Brookline and Gladwyne, tied for second place in the Main Line League statistics.

In addition to Ralston's heavy artillery of three hits including the homer, Rubincam hit a three-bagger, while Fox accounted for a double and a single.

In Saturday's exhibition against the House of David, Catcher Jack Eachus played a hero role by slamming out a double in the ninth to score McGill and Jeffries. With a tally in the third on Fox's double and Ralston's single, Narberth was able to take the game out of the fire, 3-2. Simmons held the bearded batters to six hits. About 2000 saw the game.

This week-end should see two great games at the borough playground.

On Saturday the last-place Media outfit will be the opposition. Having lost six games in a row the Delaware County seat boys are in a fighting mood and hope the law of averages, if nothing else, will give them a break.

Sunday's encounter with Gladwyne will see the Merion Square team trying its best to dethrone the Davismen. Narberth beat out Gladwyne in an extra-inning affair on the opening day and Georgie Severn will probably be on the mound for the visitors to avenge that defeat. Gladwyne showed a lot of power in its two week-end games, lashing out a total of twenty-nine hits to trounce both Upper Darby and Pottstown, the latter the lone victor over Narberth so far this year.

Republican Women Stress the Need for Political Leadership

Discussion Groups in Conference Score Radical Teaching in Public Schools

L. M. WOMEN PRESENT

The need for leadership in the Republican Party was stressed at an all-day conference held by the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women at the Ritz-Carlton, Tuesday.

According to Mrs. Humbert B. Powell, president, the need for a State leader is greater than the need for determining the future policy of the party.

The conference opened at 11 A. M. with round table discussions led by outstanding members. Mrs. John Y. Huber, Jr., president of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women, conducted a discussion on "Radio and Newspapers" and "Teaching Influence."

From her group came the statement that "youth is being taught radicalism in the public schools." According to one member of the group, "students are being taught economics by Young Brain trustees and before they reach voting age, they are socialists." A need for supervision on the part of parents as to what is being taught in the public schools was agreed upon.

Debates were recommended as radio suggestions whereby the public can hear both sides of political issues.

Only One of Four Councilmen To Seek Renomination in Fall

Of the four borough councilmen whose terms expire this year only one has expressed himself as willing to seek renomination at the September primaries.

The latter is Clarence Kaebler, of Chestnut avenue, now in his third term as borough finance chairman. When queried Mr. Kaebler stated that he enjoyed the work and would run again but would make no campaign, standing solely on his record. As credit manager of The Electric Storage Battery Company he has brought business training plus conscientious effort to the job of administering Narberth's finances.

Unwilling to seek the office of councilman again are Robert Fellows Wood, now completing his third term, and Harvey Harman and William H. Durbin, both of whom are on their first term.

Unaffected by the election this year are William H. Fretz, president of Council, Roland Fler and Eugene H. Davis. All members of the Council body are Republicans.

It is expected that both the Republican organization and the New Dealers will have strong slates in the field and a number of independents have been

Cabrey Named Fourth Celebration Chairman, Seeks Volunteer Aides

Narberth plans its customary Fourth of July celebration, which has been noted for many years as the most attractive observance of the birth of the nation held in the entire Philadelphia area.

Burgess Hall has announced that J. J. Cabrey is to act as general chairman of a Citizens' Committee of his own selection and it is expected that a formal request will go out during the coming week to all residents for individual contributions of a dollar or two to help pay the substantial bills which are incurred for fireworks and other expenses.

On previous occasions not less than 15,000 spectators, including numerous

Regional Labor Board Director Gives Club Picture of Conditions

A picture of what is happening to industry and labor was given Tuesday at the Overbrook Golf Club by Major Stanley Root, director of the National Labor Relations Board's regional office in Philadelphia.

Addressing the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club, Major Root explained that the purpose of his Board was to get workers back into jobs.

He said that Labor is definitely a political factor and that the current epidemic of planned strikes is a natural reaction to the conditions under which working men have been obliged to labor during the last few years.

At present, he said, the regional office is deluged with mediation efforts in many labor conflicts, many of which are being settled amicably.

If civilization had not been at fault, according to Major Root, the legislation on child labor, pure food, workmen's compensation, etc., would not have been necessary.

Party for Eighth Grade

The Executive Board of the Narberth Parent-Teacher Association will entertain the pupils of the Narberth eighth grade at a party on Friday evening at the school building.

Graduates' Parties and Homecoming Give Zest to Season Nearing Close

The return to their homes of many graduates and underclassmen from the schools and colleges, together with weddings and parties for brides-to-be, brings the social season to its peak of activity just before the time when vacations and summer homes will take many residents away from the community.

Several students also are having homecoming parties, while others are entertaining college friends whose homes are in other parts of the nation.

Mr. Hugh B. Speed, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Speed, of Chestnut avenue, graduated from the Wharton mentioned as willing to serve.

Robert F. Wood, known for his regularity as a Republican, has administered the duties of chairman of the highway and drainage committee since 1926. He was persuaded to run for a third term four years ago after expressing a desire to retire as a councilman. His home is 237 Forrest avenue, Narberth, and he is advertising manager of The Autocar Company.

Harvey Harman, who has served as chairman of the borough building committee during his term as councilman, is head coach of football at the University of Pennsylvania. His vocational duties together with many speaking engagements require much of his time evenings and necessitate his being away from his home on Woodbine avenue on frequent occasions. He was the nominee of both parties in 1933.

William H. Durbin, chairman of the public safety committee, also would relinquish his councilmanic post due to press of other duties. He is a member of the real estate firm of Durbin & Howard, is president-elect of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club and is active in the American Legion and other civic affairs. His home is on Woodbine avenue.

visitors from other suburbs and the city, have been on the playground to witness the displays and it is stated that arrangements are underway to secure several assortments of pyrotechnics which have not been shown previously and which, it is said, will maintain the borough's distinction of providing the most imposing and interesting demonstration of any community.

The chairman has announced that he seeks the cooperation of every man and woman who can be helpful in the numerous arrangements which will have to be made and such volunteers are asked to telephone Narberth 2683 or to leave word in the office of Our Town.

Boro Juniors Will Buy 'Talking Book'

Raising Funds to Aid Blind; Book Club Holds Final Party

The Narberth Junior Club is continuing its philanthropic work by taking charge of raising money to purchase a "talking book" for a worthy blind person. This work is in charge of the Braille Committee, Miss Kathryn Wheeler, chairman. Most of the money needed has been pledged but a little more is needed—so if you want to help the Juniors in this worthwhile work call Narberth 4073-M. Helping the blind is the main project of the Juniors and the Braille Committee is one of the most important committees. They had charge of one meeting and had some of the blind girls from the Royer-Greaves School to entertain them and tell them of their life and work.

The Book Club of the Club held its final meeting of this year last Monday at the home of Mrs. Robert Conly. It was a supper party followed by a lively evening of games. Prizes were awarded to the girls reading the most books during the year. These were won by Mrs. George Albert and Mrs. W. S. Hunsicker. Prizes for games were awarded to Mrs. Sterling Chain, Mrs. Glenn Williams, Miss Kay Wheeler and Mrs. Hunsicker.

Some of the girls went to the Hedgrow Theatre last night to see "The Inheritors."

The Tavern Robbed by Trusted Employee While Owner Sleeps

Man Who Lived on Premises Absconds in New Station Wagon

STEALS VALUABLE GUNS

The Tavern, Montgomery avenue, Cynwyd, was robbed early Monday morning when an employee, Wesley Travers, 29, absconded with a new Station Wagon, $75 in cash and merchandise valued at several hundred dollars.

Travers had been employed by William Everhart, Sr., owner of The Tavern, for about one and one-half years and made his home on the premises. He was a pleasant, hardworking man whom Everhart trusted implicitly.

After retiring Sunday night, Mr. Everhart heard Travers go downstairs but thought he was probably unable to sleep due to the extreme heat and was going out for air.

On arising Monday about 7 A. M., Mr. Everhart discovered that a large supply of cigarettes and expensive brands of liquors had been stolen from the bar. On further investigation, he found Travers had stolen a wallet from his son, William Everhart, Jr., containing about $30 in cash, car keys and licenses and departed in a new Station Wagon purchased only a month ago.

The thief also took a number of valuable guns, including a new German Mauser automatic pistol valued at $100. He had evidently tried to remove other guns fastened on the walls but was forced to leave without them.

Travers is said to be a graduate of Marquette University, Wisconsin. During his spare time, he was studying television. He seemed very industrious but although Mr. Everhart had complete confidence in the man, he disclosed that Mrs. Everhart had always intuitively disliked Travers and on several occasions had said that "He didn't ring true."

Lower Merion Police who are investigating, are confident they will apprehend the thief. He was frequently visited by a young woman from New York whom they think may be his wife.

All the merchandise stolen was insured.

The Dedication at Narberth, Pa. Memorial Day, 1937

On the edge of Narberth's green field On this bright Memorial Day The multitude assembled Where the young folks love to play; And there the Veterans' Legion, And the Naval Marines true, And the lads in Boy Scout uniform, And the girls in sailor blue, And the solemn Borough Council, And the Burgess and the Clerk, And many other notables All came for this day's work Of dedicating fittingly Our flag, long may it wave, And the cannon and the monument With the Roll of Heroes brave. And there, on this Memorial Day When the Chaplain led in prayer And fitting speech was spoken And salute thrice filled the air, There—on that sacred spot we stood And thought of the hero band, And there we made a solemn pledge For God and native land. And long as stand these emblems At this crossing of the way May Narberth keep the faith there pledged On this Memorial Day.

On Friday afternoon our auditorium period was sponsored by Miss Fricke. Our guests were Mrs. Fred Keebler of Narberth and Mr. Engle Taylor of Cynwyd. Mrs. Keebler sang some very beautiful songs for us about Chinese stories. Mr. Taylor followed this by playing on his trumpet a lullaby and some songs. Every one enjoyed the program very much, and hope both Mrs. Keebler and Mr. Taylor will come again.

The champion of the marble contest turned out to be Edwin Markle. Edwin will be the school's representative at the finals which will be run off at Bridgeport on Tuesday afternoon. So here's hoping Edwin does his best and turns out champion again.
